- 针对ASHA客户会员调查应答率持续下滑的问题，与客户调研团队深度沟通，系统梳理其近20年30余项调查方法实验（调查模式、提醒、激励、视觉设计、措辞），识别调查模式与提醒策略为影响用户参与的关键因素，据此提炼研究目标并聚焦两条研究主线。
- 提醒策略实验：基于随机分组实验数据，识别组间直接比较中的选择偏差，构建反事实估计框架，结合分层Bootstrap与双重差分（DiD）评估不同提醒次数对用户应答的整体效果与短期影响，发现首次提醒显著提升参与而二次提醒边际收益有限，据此提出兼顾效果与成本的触达策略建议。
- 调查模式实验：以含交互项的Logistic回归与似然比检验分析邮寄与网络模式的应答差异，并按职业、机构类型、地区等维度拆分，识别对调查模式更敏感的用户群体；同时对比应答样本与目标样本的构成，评估样本代表性与潜在偏差，为客户下一轮调查的渠道选择与分群触达策略提供依据。

- 在R中构建线性与有序多层模型，比较不同模型设定并进行诊断，根据满意度量表的有序特征选定最优模型，区分个体差异与学校环境差异对满意度的影响程度。
- 发现满意度差异主要来自个体层面，学校间差异显著但幅度较小；饮酒行为与满意度显著负相关，家庭与学校满意度为主要正向驱动因素，学校反霸凌政策对满意度有显著正向影响，为识别提升青少年满意度的关键干预点提供依据。

PROJECT EXPERIENCE

Consulting for the American Speech-Language-Hearing Association (ASHA): Survey Experiment Evaluation & Response Rate Optimization Jan 2026 – Apr 2026

- Partnered with ASHA's research team to diagnose declining member survey response rates; reviewed 30+ methodology experiments from the past 20 years, scoped the engagement around the client's key concerns, and prioritized two workstreams: reminder strategy and survey mode
- Evaluated reminder effectiveness using a counterfactual framework (stratified bootstrap, DiD) to correct selection bias; showed the first reminder drove most of the lift while the second added little, and delivered a cost-effective reminder strategy to the client
- Compared mail vs. web response across member segments via logistic regression and assessed sample representativeness, translating findings into actionable recommendations on channel selection and targeted outreach for the client's next survey wave

Adolescent Health Behavior Analytics: Multilevel Modeling of HBSC Survey Data Sep 2025 - Dec 2025

- Integrated student- and school-level data from the U.S. Health Behaviour in School-aged Children (HBSC) survey (12,642 students, 314 schools) to identify drivers of adolescent life satisfaction across health behaviors, family, demographics, and school programs (e.g., anti-bullying policies, counseling services)
- Built and compared linear and ordinal multilevel models in R, selecting the best-fit model for the ordinal outcome, to separate individual-level effects from school-level effects
- Found that satisfaction gaps were driven mainly by individual rather than school factors: alcohol use was a significant negative factor, family and school satisfaction were the strongest positive drivers, and anti-bullying policies had a significant positive effect; translated findings into targeted intervention priorities for schools and policymakers

U.S. State Disparities in Income, Output and Consumption: Analysis of Bureau of Economic Analysis (BEA) Data Oct 2024 - Dec 2024

- Investigated how and where economic disparities emerge across the 50 U.S. states; built a state-level dataset by extracting and merging three BEA regional tables via API in R, and mapped five core indicators (income, real GDP, consumption, operating surplus, employment) to surface regional patterns
- Identified the factors most strongly associated with per capita income using multiple linear regression: consumption, real GDP and employment density were significant predictors, while business operating surplus was not, suggesting that corporate output does not automatically translate into household income
- Segmented states into six economic profiles via hierarchical clustering (Ward's method); visualized results with dendrograms and cluster maps to reveal the geographic concentration of state-level economic profiles, with the Northeast and West leading and parts of the Southeast lagging, and recommended that regional policy account for cross-state interdependence
